

BAF-14802/29
30909sh

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This invention broadens the method and apparatus to include the use of any biosorbable implant to temporarily immobilize the spine following any spinal arthroplasty. In addition to screws, implants may include rods, plates, and other elements, for the anterior or posterior portion of the spine.